Fifteen Cents

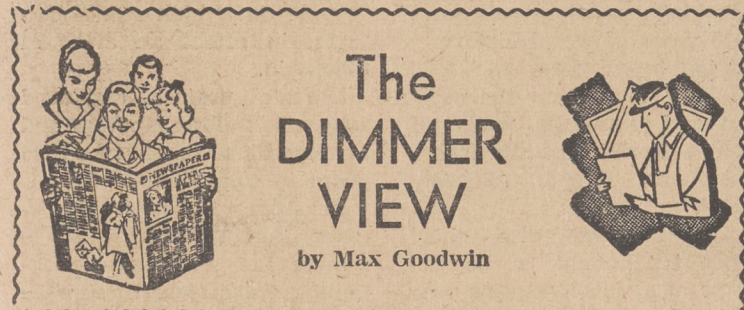

Image of Congress is Poor

Late last year our U.S. Congress bemoaned the obvious "low public opinion" of our National Legislature.

Early this year an attempt was made to change that opinion by raising their wages.

Probable theory — "you gotta respect a guy who makes that much money so easy."

That changed the opinion all right. Lower.

Some Congressional theory in that Great Body surfaced last year when steel raised its prices about 6 per cent.

"Inflationary", they called it.

The attitude of indignation ranged from name-calling to a demand for a full-fledged investigation.

Let's put the steel thing into perspective. Its increase was modest compared to what oil is getting away with. So we can lump atrociously-high increases for Congress in with the unconscionable increase in oil and coffee. All three are rip-offs and the American public ought not to stand for it.

But Congress view people as sheep. People follow. And they get riled only when they are denied their beer and TV sports programs so Congress keeps hands off these necessities of life.

But back to steel to make an example. There were two pressures brought into steel. One was union wages. The other was the effect of the wages.

Warren Brookes, a feature writer for the Boston Herald American complained that he didn't recall any politician raising an eyebrow when the United Auto Workers signed their contract (just a month before) thus raising the labor costs on automobiles by more than $6.3 billion.

"That tidy sum," said newsman Brookes, "is not 2 times, 4 times or 6 times, but twelve times the total size of the steel price hike."

Translated into the cost on each car it reads like this:

Steel increase — $18 a car

Wage increase — $500 a car.

Why was there no Congressional outcry about this?

Could it be that it is because Big Labor forked over more than $48 million in political contributions in the November elections?

Continued Brookes, "Frankly, we don't remember a single politician from either party complaining when the Teamsters raised total trucking-labor costs by more than $11 billion over the next three years."

"That's 22 times as much as the steel price hike."

"Wasn't that inflationary?"

"And what about the rubber workers who had just added about $2 billion to the cost of tires — wasn't that inflationary, too?"

These same politicians "while complaining bitterly about a half billion increase in the price of steel, quickly forgot that Social Security taxes will continue to go up — that government raises its spending by about $50 billion each year."

Informed (and concerned) Americans may someday decide to do something about it. Congress will have no place to hide. Evidence is too strong for members of U.S. Congress and Senate to deny blame.

When resistance comes, Americans will be well aware that our lawmakers in Washington are smack-dab in the middle of the problem.

Many feel that it is too late for Congress to gain a "better public opinion."

The feeling might be mitigated to a degree if our national lawmakers would attempt to prove they had a sense of fiscal responsibility . . . such as rejecting anything that contributes to inflation.

And if they do it, they ought to do it quickly. So far the evidence is not visible.

Cheryl Briggs with 7,515 and Beverly Hurst with 7,122 were among nearest runners-up.

Totals are incomplete but semi-official.

Broadcaster Tops In LM-SV Election

Semi-official results in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district were: Mary Farley, a public broadcaster; 3,342; Kenneth Trent, retired banker, 2,895, and George Trivoli, engineer, 2,882.

There were 8 candidates on the ballot.

CITY IS BORN!

Council is Dorman, Burns, Lake, Doherty and Bailey

City parenthood came to residents of Lemon Grove Tuesday on the wings of an election which showed a preference for incorporation by more than two to one.

James V. Dorman was top vote-getter.

It was the community's 4th try and the semi-official vote was Yes—3,248; No—1,527.

Voters also chose city fathers — five of them. They are Dorman, 2,282, Dr. Robert Burns, 2,155, Dell Lake, 1,876, Jack Doherty, 1,587, and Dale Bailey, 1,415.

Dorman is an attorney; Dr. Burns a veterinarian; Dell Lake a retired businessman and Doherty, a legal affairs specialist with S.D. Police Department. He holds a law degree. Dorman, Burns and Lake are members of the L.G. Fire Protection District board of Directors. Bailey is a minister.

There were 23 candidates in all. The remaining 18 finished like this:

Lois Heiserman, 1,376, Dick Thomson, 1,194; LeRoy Maxwell 783, and Robert Swanson 701.

T. A. Parker, 671; Leo Bodin, 649; Maxine Grove, 644, and Brian Cochran 617.

Clyde West, 603; Emily Wallingford, 591; Dorothe DuBois, 589, and Wayne Buttrick, 584.

Roger Price, 570; Travis Metcalf, 567; B. H. Brandt, 481, and Wynell McReynolds, 305.

D. R. White, 304 and Lester Reese, 220.

Starts July 1

The city will officially begin operations July 1. That is when the new fiscal year begins. Jurisdictions are required by law to provide services for the remainder of the year at the same level as they were as the year began. The choosing July 1, will get services without paying for them in that period.

All county services including sheriff's protection will be continued without charge to the city. So will California Highway Patrol traffic control and accident investigation.

In addition, the city becomes eligible for tax refunds from the state on retail sales, tobacco, liquor and autos with the period beginning July 1. It is assumed that these funds will be stockpiled until July 1, 1978 when the city will be required to pay its own way.

First Get-Together

The council will schedule its first meeting this month, according to Jim Dorman, an attorney. All get-togethers will be unofficial until July 1. Dorman was active in bringing incorporation to vote.

It is assumed that the first item of business in July will be to take a look at the 75 cents a hundred assessed valuation maximum tax rate to see whether it should be less than that. Even if it remains at 75 cents, it will be 11 cents lower than the rate now paid by those within the City of Lemon Grove boundaries.

Thomson Aided

One person who contributed greatly to the success of the issue was Karen Thomson, who did not enter the race although her husband was a candidate. She headed every meeting from the time public meetings were started last year.

John Stenback, a realtor, was co-chairman.

Incorporation failed in Lemon Grove in 1955, 1958 and 1964 although the outcome was close each time. This time there was no organized opposition to it. A lower tax rate and the need for maintaining the integrity of its boundaries were two of the main reasons it succeeded. However (23 candidates going about the community of some 20,000 persons selling cityhood as well as themselves had a positive effect, too.

The lowered concern of the Board of Supervisors in unincorporated areas also helped point the way to cityhood.

Beginning July 1, residents with problems will have five sets of concerned ears into which to pour their troubles. And that, too, is a reason many voted Yes on the issue.

Midnight Ride Stopped by Cops

It was a grand tour while it lasted — but it didn't last too long.

When sheriff's deputies stopped an oncoming auto that refused to dim its lights at midnight March 3, officers turned about, tracked it down and faced the driver and his three companions.

The police had a surprise. The auto was being driven by a 13-year old boy. He had four companions. Two were 13; one 14 and the oldest one, 16.

The tourists were taken to the L.G. Sheriff's station and parents were notified.

The father of the driver owned the car. He said there would be no more joy-riding for his young son.

Officials at the Spring Valley Junior High School, 3900 Conrad rd., Casa de Oro, reported February 28 that rock throwers had broken out the dusk-to-dawn lights that protect the school from trespassers.

Lemon Grove Man Falls Victim To Insurance Rebate Offer

There's an old scam with a new twist and a Lemon Grove senior was the victim.

It goes like this.

Archie Wilson, 87, of 7576 Pacific ave. answered a knock on his door about 6:30 on March 2.

The visitor was about 40, well-dressed and wearing a felt hat.

He identified himself as a representative of an insurance firm who had come to arrange a rebate of $140 the victim had coming. He called Wilson by name.

According to Deputy Andy Nossal of the Sheriff's Fraud Detail, the man was invited in and chatted about the insurance.

The visitor then asked for a cup of coffee which the victim made.

He also asked that his son, who was in the auto outside, be invited in. The son, about 24, and equally well-dressed entered and asked for change for $20. The insurance man didn't have it but Mr. Wilson did. He went into his bedroom and got the change. The son asked if he could change one more $20 bill and the victim could and did.

The insurance man, after getting the facts he needed for the rebate asked to be allowed to use the phone — which was in the bedroom.

When he returned, he told the victim he had to get the check signed and that a quick trip downtown would accomplish that.

"We'll be back in a few minutes," he told Wilson.

After 30 minutes or so, Mr. Wilson became restive and checked his money drawer. It was empty.

Gone was $200 of Social Security money he had just received.

The Fraud Detail had little to go on. Nossal said basically it is an old scam with a new twist. Many people feel that insurance rates are too high and would welcome a rebate.

The rebate that never came cost Mr. Wilson $200.

Tank Younger Is Lions Club Program Tonight

Paul "Tank" Younger, former Los Angeles Rams' football superstar and now assistant general manager of the S.D. Chargers, talks football tonight at the regular weekly meeting of the Lemon Grove Lions club, Jim Dorman, Lions program chairman said.

The club meets at Skandia, Broadway and Kempf at 7 p.m.

Younger joined the Chargers in 1975 after spending practically his whole football career with the Rams.

He was star fullback 1949 through 1957 and a member of their front office since 1964.

He was the first player from a Black school to make it big in NFL. In nine seasons with the Rams, he was All-NFL several times as fullback and linebacker. He was a member of the Rams famed "Bull Elephant" backfield which included Deacon Dan Towler and Dick Hoetner.

Younger finished his playing career in 1958 at Pittsburgh with a total of 3,640 yards for a 4.7 average and 35 touchdowns.

Bra-Bank Fails Robbery Victim

It was a holdup but the question as to whether the robber was armed wasn't determined.

Gayle Christine Peralew, a white female, 28, who lives on London lane in Lemon Grove, had just cashed a check for $173 in the Alpha Beta Market at Broadway and Massachusetts. She said she put the money in her bra and drove a short distance to Rock Liquor, in the same shopping center, to buy a money order.

A Black male, approximately 28, pointed what appeared to be a gun in his jacket pocket at her and said, "Give me your money. I've got a gun."

She refused and he again threatened her using profanity in the process.

She finally gave him the $173 and called the sheriff.

Gum, Fish Loot Of Shoplifters

Sheriff's deputies rounded up a gang of shoplifters on February 28 at Food Basket in Casa de Oro, their reports show.

Recovered in the loot were two cigarette lighters, a toy jeep, package of chewing gum and a fish — one ready for cooking.

By the time the gang was in custody the fish was beginning to give off a strong odor.

Members of the gang were released to their parents. They were 9, 10 and 11 years old.

A new law will make their caper a most expensive one, it was indicated.

There's An Answer

by Norman Vincent Peale
and Ruth Stafford Peale

It's not always the wife's fault when the husband is unfaithful

Q. In one of your answers in your column you more or less blame women for their husbands' unfaithfulness. That's not always true. This happened to me after 37 years of a good and (so I thought) happy marriage.

We were married when I was 15, raised three children, and now have five grandchildren.

We are a very close family. I have not let myself go; I'm active in public, dress well and haven't gained any weight. Our house is always presentable. His meals are always ready when he comes home.

It broke my heart to know he lied to me, and it put me in deep depression. He finally quit seeking the other woman and I guess is rather ashamed.

I love him very much, but it's going to take awhile before I trust him again. I wish I could. Please give me advice.

A. Since your husband has quit seeing the other woman and appears to be sorry, it may be that he regrets his departure from fidelity. Give him a chance to make good on that. You seem to be a very strong person and we are sure he loves you as you love him.

Every man or woman who repents of wrongdoing and sincerely desires to make amends is entitled to the benefit of the doubt. It would seem that your marriage can achieve a depth greater than ever before.

my middle 30's, Every time I meet a fellow it never works out.

If I act like a lady on the first date, he says I'm a snob, and the minute I get a little lovable and fall for the guy, then he doesn't come around again.

If I'm with a guy I don't care for I can talk and be very friendly with him. But if I'm on a first date with one I like I get very quiet, shaky and weak all over. Then I can't talk much, and he thinks I don't like him. What is the matter with me? Can you help me?

A. It may be that your trouble is an oversensitized and a normally acute self-consciousness. Your personal relations, we believe, would greatly improve if you would simply be yourself in a normal, healthy manner.

When you are going to be with someone, why not offer a prayer that you will be emotionally composed and conduct yourself in an un-upright manner.

You can have normal relationships that are pleasant and good as you become normal, pleasant and good in your reactions.

Stop thinking about yourself. Instead, think of the other person and that person will like you for it.

Fifty-four years old and wrinkled

Q. I'm 54 years old and my skin is so wrinkled I look like I'm 70. Could this come from my diet or just what does cause it?

I try to eat everything that's good for my health. Please don't say to use cream, because I think I have used all that is on the market.

My face, neck and arms are getting so wrinkled I'm ashamed to go out. I'm willing to try anything so please help.

A. This is a medical question and requires consultation with your doctor. The cause could be nutrition, lack of exercise or over-exposure to sun.

Another possibility is that you are seeing yourself as wrinkled even more than others see you. Try picturing yourself as having normally aged skin, with a healthy color and normal wrinkles. Affirm that you are attaining that healthy skin and give thanks to God for his healing.

But whatever the cause, go out among people and be normal and natural.

Perhaps you would like to find an answer for yourself to a problem that you can share with others in THERE'S AN ANSWER! If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Unearthings Cause Strife For Israeli Diplomacy With Arabs

Israeli archaeologists have discovered that is thought to be massive stone arches once part of the reconstructed Second Temple built during the reign of Herod the Great.

On sites outside Jerusalem, archaeologists believe the unearthings may reveal some 2200 years of world history.

Digs began after the 1976 Six Day War below the western and southern walls of Mount Moriah, the site where Solomon's Temple allegedly stood.

The diggings also show what is thought to be the home of a rich Byzantine who lived at the time of the Emperor Constantine, a 1300 year old water system, Roman roads, numerous coins and vases, and a Roman-style public bath with surprisingly modern steam-heating ducts.

The Second Temple recently discovered is thought to have been first dedicated in 519 B.C. after the Persians defeated the Babylonian Empire and allowed the exiled Jews to return to the Holy Land from Babylonian.

Later, in 20 B.C., Herod is thought to have directed the construction of the Second Temple on a high stone platform, in effect an artificial mountain.

Herod's project employed some one million laborers and is thought to have taken 20 years to complete.

According to the archaeologists, Romans destroyed the temple but the massive retaining walls were impossible to lay waste upon.

The new discoveries in the Old City of Jerusalem have come under fire recently from Arab and some Third World nations and have resulted in Israel being temporarily barred from UNESCO. Critics charge the area of the excavations were formerly covered by shacks, stone huts, some small shops, and much refuse, nothing of historical character.

But UNESCO's own archaeologists later have praised the discoveries.

Most recent development, Israel has been admitted to the European section of UNESCO but remains barred from the Asian section by Arab opposition to the archaeological exploration of Old Jerusalem.

The number to call is 463-3006.

AUCTION
of PERSIAN RUGS
and other Oriental Rugs

SAN DIEGO CONVENTION AND PERFORMING ARTS CENTER
202 C Street
San Diego, Calif.

SUNDAY, MARCH 20 2 P.M.
VIEWING AT 1 P.M.

A beautiful collection of genuine handwoven Persian and Oriental Rugs is being offered at auction to the highest bidder. Included are KERMAN, KASHANS, ARDEBIL, AFGHAN, BOKHARA, TABRIZ, BELOUCH, AFSHAR, QUME, INDIAN, and many other collector's pieces.

Note about this auction:
Iran, the largest producer of handwoven carpets, and rugs, has been a backward, slow-moving country for centuries. Suddenly, with the advent of industry, oil, and free education, it zoomed to the 20th Century. As a result the children who were the majority of the weavers, were lured away from the ancient art of weaving. In our opinion, this great art will soon be lost and so scarce that today European collectors and dealers are rushing to America to collect these beautiful carpets.

Lake has charged the county with transferring the flooding problem from the intersection to his backyard.

COUNTY CATCH-22 — According to Lake, the county should have continued the pipe another 150 feet into a flood control district canyon.

Instead, the county required the residents to pay over $1,700 for the pipe to continue and said they could not foot the bill for improvements to private property.

This Week's

RECIPE

Das Wienerschnitzel

By Susanne Williams

It certainly isn't "Der Wienerschnitzel" as local business customs it; but whether "der", "die" or "das" — all three being German article indicating the gender of a noun — das Wiener-schnitzel is undoubtedly one of the finer contributions of the Austrian cuisine.

In addition, it has the indisputable advantage of being easy to fix, an advantage which the younger crowd might keep in mind around Mother's Day.

1 pound of veal cutlet
2 eggs
flour breadcrumbs
salt and pepper
2 tbl. spoons butter
lemon wedges

Put breadcrumbs, flour and 2 slightly beaten eggs into three different plates. Season veal cutlets with salt and pepper on both sides. Dip cutlets into eggs and coat them slightly on both sides. Proceed by dipping them into flour—again on both sides and finally coat them with breadcrumbs. Heat butter in pan. Place well-breaded cutlets in pan and fry cutlets on medium heat for approximately 5 minutes of until both sides are golden brown. Serve immediately and add a lemon wedge together with home-fried potatoes for taste and good looks. Tomatoes and a fresh tossed salad, the Schnitzels should make four mouths water.

Only Chance for Local Tee Fans To See Nicklaus is MONY Match

RANCH LA COSTA — Jack Nicklaus will make his only Southern California appearance this year in the $225,000 MONY (Mutual of New York) Tournament of Champions, announced tournament chairman Allard Roen.

"I'm looking forward to competing again in the MONY Tournament of Champions. It's one of the finest tournaments in the country, and the

MONY Tickets Available Now

Golf enthusiasts should become even more enthusiastic when buying season tickets for the $225,000 MONY Tournament of Champions.

Tournament director Tommy Jacobs has announced that season tickets for one of the most prestigious tournaments in the world will cost only $24, a savings of $14 over daily ticket purchases.

Free parking is included. Jacobs said for the first time preseason daily tickets may be purchased at reduced rates. Season and preseason daily tickets are now available at Orange and San Diego County golf shops and at La Costa (714) 438-9111.

Preseason daily ticket prices are $4 for practice rounds Tuesday and Wednesday, $5 Thursday and Friday and $7 Saturday and Sunday.

Tickets purchased at the gate will cost $5 Tuesday and Wednesday, $6 Thursday and Friday and $8 Saturday and Sunday.

La Costa course is one of the best groomed we play all year," said Jack.

Nicklaus, the only four-time winner of this prestigious event, did not compete last year because of "personal family reasons."

The 25th annual MONY T of C — richest event in the West — will be played April 14-17 at La Costa Resort Hotel, Spa and Country Club. Only winners on major PGA tours in the past 12 months, plus the British Open, are eligible to compete for the $45,000 first prize.

Nicklaus, the youngest ever to win this exclusive event at age 23, has won twice at the Desert Inn course in 1963-64 and twice at La Costa, in 1971 and 1973. In 1972 he lost a playoff to Bobby Mitchell.

Jack has indicated he's back on his game by winning the Jackie Gleason Invitational last Sunday. Prior to the Gleason, Jack was 69th on the money list with $4,600. After it, he was third with $54,600.

But he'll have to contend with a strong field here. Twenty-nine other players will try to prevent Jack from winning No. 5.

Watson, winner of the Andy Williams-San Diego Open and Bing Crosby; Lee Elder, Dave Hill, Buddy Allin, Roger Maltbie, J. C. Snead, Aussie David Graham and two-time winner Mark Hayes are strong contenders.

Golf fans can see these stars at bargain prices. Season tickets, good for two practice days and four rounds of the tournament, cost only $24, a savings of $14. Preseason daily tickets are $4 each for Tuesday and Wednesday, $5 Thursday and Friday and $7 Saturday and Sunday, a savings of $1 daily.

Free parking is included. The tickets telephone is (714) 438-9111.

Larry Weaver Is Chargers' New DB Coach

Larry Weaver, coach of the New England Patriots' defensive backfield since 1973, has been named defensive backfield coach of the San Diego Chargers.

Weaver, 45, will be reunited with Chargers head coach Tommy Prothro, for whom he served as an assistant coach at ULCA in 1969 and 1970 and with the Los Angeles Rams in 1971 and 1972. Weaver resigned from the Patriots' staff February 11.

"I'm excited at the opportunity to again coach with Larry Weaver," said Prothro. "I think he is a most exceptional fundamental and strategic coach. Weaver's appointment gives us the strongest group of assistants I've ever coached."

Prothro said the hiring of Weaver completes the Chargers' coaching staff for 1977. Max Coley was named offensive coordinator January 11. Jerry Smith was named defensive line coach February 4. Other assistant coaches are Jackie Simpson, defensive coordinator and linebacker; Earnel Durden, offensive backs, and Bob McKittick and Rudy Feldman, offensive line. Feldman moves from the defensive line, which he has coached since 1974.

Weaver was coach of a secondary that intercepted 19 passes in 1976. Rookies Mike Haynes and Tim Fox, both number one draft choices, started with veterans Prentice McCray and Bob Howard. Haynes was AFC defensive rookie of the year.

The four defensive backs intercepted seven passes as the Patriots set a team record for one game in a October 18 Monday night contest against the New York Jets.

Top Collegiate Volleyball Teams Due in April Meet

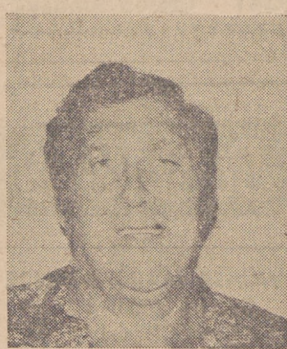

Four of the nation's top college volleyball teams will meet April 1-2 as VOLLEYBALL MAGAZINE and Mikasa combine to sponsor the first annual Collegiate Volleyball Classic at S.D. State's Peterson Gym.

UCLA, six-time NCAA champion, USC and Ohio State "U" will join S. D. State to produce a field including four of the country's top six rated teams. UCLA is generally considered the favorite to win this year's NCAA title with USC rated second, O.S.U. fifth and the Aztecs sixth.

The Collegiate Volleyball Classic will feature two matches each night, starting at 6:30 p.m. with the opener followed directly afterwards by a second match in the fashion of college basketball's holiday tournaments. Third-place will be decided Saturday, April 2, at 6:30 p.m. and the championship match will be the nightcap.

Sports and Leisure International, American distributor for Mikasa, will award a $1,500 volleyball scholarship to the athletic department of each participating school making the tournament both prestigious and lucrative for those involved. The Mikasa volleyball will serve as the official ball for the tournament.

Tickets have been scaled at $2 and $3 and are available through SDSU's Athletic Department. The telephone is (714) 286-6947.

La Jolla's Raul Ramirez In La Costa Net Classic

Grand Prix champion, Raul Ramirez, whose tennis game was born in San Diego County, has entered the $100,000 La Costa International Tennis Classic.

Winner of four major events last season as well as his Wimbledon doubles triumph with Brian Gottfried, Ramirez in the past has not enjoyed the best of luck at La Costa although the stadium surface is to his liking.

He suffered through a nagging leg injury in losing to Stan Smith three years ago and in 1975 played when he was too ill to do so effectively in bowing to Ross Case. If he can avoid such physical misfortune, he should be a major factor in the tournament's final result despite such formidable opposition that includes Jeff Borowiak, Tom Gorman, John Newcombe, Roscoe Tanner, Bernie Mitton, Billy Scanlon, Bob Lutz and Gottfried.

At only 23, Ramirez, who grew up in La Jolla, was impressively consistent last season. In 19 of 30 tournaments entered he was a semi-finalist or better and his 93 matches won was second only to Jimmy Connors. His total earnings, including tournament winnings and circuit bonuses last year was calculated at a record $484,343.

It is somewhat ironic that Ramirez will have a major

GRAND PRIX — Raul Ramirez, last year's Grand Prix winner, has entered the $100,000 La Costa International Tennis Classic March 21-27. Tickets are on sale now at La Costa and at Ticketron outlets throughout San Diego County.

Baseball Season Opens at Helix

"We're looking forward to a great season," Bob Lucas, varsity coach, said. "I believe we can finish in the top three in the league this year."

10 Courts Added To Tennis Ranch

SAN DIEGO COUNTRY ESTATES — San Vicente Tennis Ranch at this resort community is rapidly becoming one of the most complete tennis resort centers in the West, with construction now underway on the first phase of a $10 million condominium complex and the addition of 10 new courts.

Plans for the 49-acre tennis ranch call for 195 view-oriented condominium homes surrounding the $1.5 million clubhouse and court complex already in operation. A spokesman said this is the last major condominium complex to be built at the Estates.

Two-time Grand Slam Champion Rod Laver has been named Director of Tennis and now offers his widely-acclaimed teaching program and Rod Laver Tennis Holidays at San Vicente Tennis Ranch. He has announced plans to move the national headquarters of Rod Laver Tennis Resorts from Houston, Texas to San Diego Country Estates within the year.

Six furnished condominium models will be open for public inspection in April, with the first increment of 37 units scheduled for completion in June. Pre-sales will open in mid-March.

Bob Larson Wins Coach of Year Award

Time Trials To be Dropped At S.B. Oval

It's back to the old basics again at South Bay Park Speedway.

Track promoter Don Basile has reformed the Mesa Auto Race Assn. and opened the door for everyone to race just about anything on the quarter-mile oval on weekly Sunday afternoon programs.

Requirements are to have a car of 1950 model vintage or later, a crash helmet, a set of seat belts and enough guts to give it a try, reports Basile.

"To make things equal is that they'll have tires with a maximum width of seven and a half inches," he said, "regardless of model. That should keep the competition close."

He said expenses for modified-type of racing have skyrocketed and he wants to give the "little guy" a chance to run.

The first street stock program is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Following the first race program, the use of time trials will be discontinued. Basile says this will result in quicker and more compact shows, making the preliminary races more important.

Races will be from inverted starts, determined by point averages. The average will be determined by the performance of the driver in the preceding three races. If a driver misses three consecutive programs he will receive a zero average but must start behind the high average cars.

Wheelbase will be 103 inches or more, the battery may be relocated in the passenger compartment or trunk, the doors, hood and trunk must be securely fastened and only a stock fuel pump will be permitted.

Computers Aid Reservations At State Parks

SACRAMENTO — Californians can once again make computerized reservations for state park system campsites.

Persons unable to reach a Ticketron terminal in person may make reservations by mailing a reservation request and total fees to Ticketron, P.O. Box 26430, San Francisco, CA 94126. Application forms are available at Ticketron outlets and units of the State Park System.

Under the new contract, charges for making advance reservations have been increased. Campsite reservations — $1.75, up 25 cents; Hearst Castle tours — from 80 cents, up 45 cents.

Fees for camping will remain unchanged: Campsite fees a night are $5 for hook-up sites; $4 for developed family campsites; and $2 for primitive (limited development) campsites.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

It's a get-together of considerable merit. Between the folks at University of San Diego, Honda Civic, Ted Valles and Kathryn Crosby, the distaff best of pro golf are teeing off in our town over 72 holes of tough tournament play the last weekend of the month.

And it's a celebrity affair, but the doing are in reverse. More than 100 lady pros will tee off in the opening round at Ted Valles' Whispering Palms golf works with the top 60 and ties making the cut for the final 36 holes.

Final two round foursomes will match three lady professionals with a celebrity of note coming from a field that includes such stars as Kathryn's hubby, Bing; The Musical Square, Lawrence Welk; The MAN, Jack Albertson; The best of the Hopes, Delores; the man who discovered how to improve water, Phil Harris, Musclemann Don Knotts and the guy who made beach bumming an art on television, James Garner.

And while this is mostly a studded field of stars, the real charge comes from the lady pros, themselves.

All the top distaff stars are signing up for the Whispering Palms $165,000 Kathryn Crosby-Honda Civic Classic, including San Diego's own Mickey Wright, the Grande Dame of the game.

Mickey Wright was the Arnold Palmer of Ladies Golf during the early '60s, winning everything in sight including four straight money championships.

But Mickey isn't gonna be the only doll on the grounds. Such talented tee-tomcats as Jane Blalock, Donna Caponi Young, Lovely Laura Baugh, 1969 money winner Carol Mann, Hollis Stacy, Pretty Pam Higgins, Fresh-as-a-daisy Amy Alcott and Long-off-the-tee JoAnne Garner head a list of the best in the trade.

With all these lovely and talented ladies teeing up, it should come as no surprise the charity they support is close to their hearts.

The real winner of the event will be the young ladies studying at the Philip Y. Hahn School of Nursing at the University of San Diego.

It's a small wonder that tickets are on sale at most banks, all golf and country clubs, sporting goods stores and through Special Service on all military bases, in addition to all normal ticket outlets.

"We're ready for a big crowd," grinned tournament director Don Ross. "We have room for more than 6,000 automobiles within easy walking distance to the course, even though we'll have trams out there to bring 'em in." "The course is ideal for galleries. There is ample room between fairways for excellent viewing on nearly every hole. It will only be tough for the golfers."

Ross showed a decided male chavivistic glee when he described how difficult the course would play for the lady stars.

"The rough will be cut to two inches and the fairways will be trimmed down to 40 yards," he grinned, wickedly. "The course is well trapped, with fairway bunkers offering a challenge on nearly every hole and most greens are bunkered on both sides and in the back. "We'll have lots of places to hide the pin."

Kathryn Crosby's Honda Civic Golf Classic is the second richest step on the LPGA tour and even gallery types get in on the action.

On Tuesday of tournament week (March 22-27) JoAnne Garner, Jo Ann Washam and Pat Bradley will match drives with any man on the grounds.

Any slugger outreaching the ladies will benefit from the Grafalloy sponsorship with a new driver worth close to $150. Driving fee is $10.

Judy Rankin, Jan Stephenson and Amy Alcott will host a chipping contest from 50 yards out with Grafalloy again picking up the challenge.

You get more than just good looks when you watch the ladies tee it up.

The Crosby's Homecoming For SD's Mickey Wright

Mickey Wright, who grew up on San Diego County golf courses and went on to win more tournaments than any other player in the history of the sport, is coming home.

She has entered the $165,000 Kathryn Crosby/Honda Civic Golf Classic March 23-27 at Whispering Palms Country Club, her first competitive appearance in this area in more than 10 years.

Four-time U.S. Open champion and with a like number of LPGA titles, Wright has won a record 82 major tournaments. She is a Hall of Fame occupant and her list of competitive accomplishments is endless. A sample: record for most tournament wins in one year, 13; most birdies in one round, 9; leading money winner four straight seasons, 1961-64; winner of Vare Trophy, lowest average competitive score, five straight times, 1960-64.

Wright, now a successful businesswoman living in Florida, limits her competitive appearances. In the past three years she has played in only 11 events.

All the top stars in women's golf are expected to compete in the Crosby/Honda event, which offers the second largest purse in the LPGA tour. Players already announced include Jane Blalock, Donna Young, Laura Baugh, Carol Mann, Hollis Stacy, Amy Alcott, Pam Higgins and JoAnne Garner.

Bing Crosby heads the list of celebrities who will participate the last two days of the tournament in Kathryn Crosby's Tee Party. Celebrities include Phil Harris, Lawrence Welk, James Garner, Don Knotts, Delores Hope and Jack Albertson.

Season tickets are at $12, allowing a $13 savings if daily tickets were purchased. They are on sale now at 40 locations throughout San Diego County including golf pro shops and Honda dealers.

Tougher Enforcement Ahead For Increasing Dog Problem

San Diego County Board of Supervisors Chairman Jim Bates has issued an appeal to dog owners throughout the County to voluntarily comply with local enforcement ordinances and animal population control methods.

Bates said, "Animals, particularly dogs, with their emotional attachment lend themselves to be perhaps one of the most controversial issues."

Bates said statistics continue to show an increase in reports of stray dogs, dog bites, unleashed dogs on beaches, roaming packs of dogs in rural areas, livestock harassment, dog attacks or threatened attacks on joggers, injured dogs, and uncontrollable dogs.

According to information from the County's Department of Animal Control, injured animals, owned or un-owned, are expected to almost double in number this year over those of two years ago. From a high of 3,080 in 1975-76, the figure is expected to go to about 5,600 in 1976-77, a direct causal relationship to permitting a dog to run free or to irresponsible ownership.

75,000 Strays

Bates said the county population of at least 75,000 to 80,000 strays is apparently almost a stable figure according to stray pickup, reports, and sightings.

"This factual evidence of irresponsible ownership and uncontrolled breeding. Dogs do not appear without cause—each mixed breed has a purebred history and each stray had an owner's history at some time," said Bates.

According to Bates, the "love me, love my dog" attitude may well be good communication between empathetic persons, but it is not acceptable to people wanting enjoy clean beaches, or by joggers faced with the threat of being bitten by an unleashed animal.

"The rules and regulations governing the licensing, vaccination, and controlling of dogs are not enacted to punish, but rather to protect the dogs their owners, and other citizens in the community," said Bates.

Encl E. Rains, director of the Department of Animal Control, said the need for positive enforcement becomes more apparent each day. "Convictions" must obviously replace the present "corrective" posture of the Department, he said.

Rains said since citizens reaction to presently prescribed practices has not been overly impressive, the Department is in the process of modifying its policies.

The County is responsible for animal control in the unincorporated areas of the county and by contract in some cities.

Tougher Enforcement

"A more stringent attitude towards owner offenders is in the making," said Rains. "More citations, more impounds and more licensed animals are the expected results. We expect fewer citizen complaints about uncontrolled dogs and at the same time, we expect to hear more from the offending section of the dog-owning public."

Bates and Rains both agreed that self-policing is always far more desirable but more difficult.

"Citizen cooperation by everyone is preferable, requested, and the only real answer," said Bates.

Those with question about licensing, vaccinations, spaying and neutering, and leash laws, should contact County Animal Shelters at 1104 Azusa st., San Diego, 297-4763; or South County Animal Shelter, 5821 Sweetwater rd., Bonita, at 263-7741.

Shelters are open between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday and Sundays.

National University Granted Accreditation

Based on academic performance and financial stability, National University has been granted full accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The accreditation now allows credits from the five year old university to be transferred to other educational institutions in the country.

National University began with 27 students in 1972 and has grown to some 4,000 undergraduates and a teaching staff of over 200. The school was founded by a group of San Diego area businessmen to meet the educational needs of working adults.

THE SHARKS — Recently, students at Spring Valley elementary voted to have a shark as their school's symbol. The P.T.A. sponsored a contest in which approximately 90 children entered pictures of sharks.

The choice was difficult but two 5th graders, Doug Gaar (left) and Jon Whitelock (right), were the chosen contestants. Gaar's shark will appear on arm patches which will be given to each student in the school. Whitelock's will be put on T-shirts which youngsters will purchase in the near future.

Understandable Legal Notices Plan Proposed by Assemblyman Tom Suitt

Assemblyman Tom Suitt has introduced legislation to make it easier for consumers to locate property put up for sale in public notices.

The bill would require that in addition to the legal description of property for sale, the public notice shall contain the street address or directions sufficient to locate the property, Suitt said.

Under existing law, a public notice must precede the sale of property or real property. A legal description of the property must be included.

"Several people in my district have complained that the notices they read in their community newspapers are too confusing to enable them to find the property on their own," Suitt said. "The currently required legal descriptions are important, but they are often insufficient for the interested person who might want to personally inspect the parcel up for sale."

"My bill would simply eliminate a small part of the unnecessary bureaucratic confusing faced every day by thousands of Californians," Suitt said.

Bids to Open For Traffic Light At Campo-Barcelona Intersection

Construction bids will be open at 2 p.m. April 7 for a traffic signal light for the intersection of Campo rd. and Barcelona street, in the Casa de Oro area.

The traffic light is one of about nine top priority traffic control projects in the county the Board of Supervisors will let out for bids.

Construction may come as early as this June, an official of the County's Traffic Engineering Department said.

"I can't imagine anyone on the job for at least eight weeks," said Joe McGuire of the Traffic Engineering Dept., "We will take bids on the 7th, the contract should be awarded by the end of April, and the Board will have to approve it. Contractors should be on the job by this June."

The county expects the cost to run somewhere between $21,000 and $28,000.

The intersection of Barcelona and Campo sts. convey some 15,000 vehicles per day and there has been some 11 accidents there in the past two years.

"The accident rate at the intersection is not that high," said Traffic department spokesman Manard Smith, "but they are of a type that are correctable by the traffic light."

The county rates traffic construction projects on a priority list based on traffic flow and accident rate.

Pilot Program To Cut Gas Use Instigated by SDG&E

San Diego Gas and Electric Company is piloting a program to help reduce the energy costs for large residential users whose bills exceed $40 per month.

The gas company has sent letters to over 1500 customers to generate interest in two energy saving services.

The first service is a free energy audit kit — available by mail — which lists conservation tips and ideas to guide home owners toward a more energy efficient life style.

Included in the tips are 43 ways to cut consumption such as keeping refrigerators free of frost and not to pack freezer to allow proper circulation.

SDG&E's spokesman Fred Vaughn said according to their studies a drip of hot water at one second intervals wastes some 700 gallons per year.

The second service offered by SDG&E is a home energy audit by one of the gas company's field representatives. For a nominal fee, the representative will point out energy wastes and how to correct them.

If the pilot program is successful, SDG&E plans to start a full scale program in April.

Vets May Collect 9 More Months Of Education Aid

Some 6.1 million veterans are currently eligible for increased G.I. education benefits up to $500 per month for the nine month school year.

Under a new federal law passed by Congress late last year, G.I. benefits were increased the grant $292. The provision in the law may grant for college up to $4,500 to married vets with large families.

The new law also provides nine additional months of GI bill eligibility to most veterans originally entitled to 36 months of V.A. educational assistance.

The law does not change the ten year requirement for aid. Veterans must take advantage of GI bill education benefits within ten years after discharge.

The Veterans Administration said the new benefits would specifically help those vets who have already used up the full 36 month allotment. These veterans are entitled to an additional nine months of benefits.

The Veterans Administration makes the grants and determines eligibility and their office is located: 2022 Camino del Rio North. VA phone is 297-8220

Ask Your C.H.P.

CHP Capt. C.M. Douglas

Last week's column told that you could be cited for driving on freeway lanes slower than the normal flow of traffic — even if you are in the slow lane.

This week CHP Area Commander Capt. C. M. Douglas replies to another question posed by a reader.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It may save you a citation — or even your life. Write care of this newspaper. You don't have to sign the letter. Allow about three weeks for the reply to appear.

This week's question:

I often get gasoline at the service station on the north side of Broadway opposite Kempf Street in Lemon Grove. The east entrance-exit is the extension of Kempf. That driveway is easy to enter from any direction, there being a left-turn pocket for eastbound Broadway traffic. But when I use it as an exit to go south on Kempf, no traffic light faces me. I wait until there is no traffic at all, then I cross. Am I legal?

Reply:

Yes, you may cross this intersection or go left or right. However, you must yield to all traffic close enough to create an immediate hazard.

Sups May Amend Pool Fence Law

A controversial county ordinance requiring homeowners to put up five foot fences around their private swimming pools may soon be lifted for large estates by the County Board of Supervisors.

Last week Supervisor Lee Taylor directed his staff to draft a new ordinance which requires fences only around pools on one acre or less.

A diluge of complaints has been flooding the board since it passed the ordinance last summer, most coming from large homeowners in Rancho Santa Fe.

Kim Kilkeny, administrative assistant to Supervisor Lucille Moore, said the County Department of Land Use and Environmental Control has been attempting to enforce the ordinance since last summer but have given up temporarily pending Taylor's new ordinance.

"It is still law," said Kilkeny, "The County Land Use and Environmental Control Department has been attempting to enforce it but as of last week we are in limbo."

Kilkenny said Taylor's proposal would drop the requirement to put up fences immediately but would force all new pools built to include them. Exempt from the new law would be pools built on large estates.

"He (Taylor) was reacting to homeowners out in Rancho Santa Fe," said Kilkenny.

Mills' 'Sunset Bill' Wins OK

Senate President Pro Tem James R. Mills' legislation calling for a thorough study of the "sunset" concept of dealing with bureaucratic waste in state government has cleared the Senate overwhelmingly.

Mills' legislation (CSR 3) is the first "sunset" measure to clear any house of the State legislature since the concept was popularized during the 1975-76 session.

SR 3 requires the Legislative Analyst's Office to evaluate the "sunset" concept to determine the best way of implementing it in California.

"Sunset" is the term used to describe a scheduled legislative review of state government programs and agencies. Unless the legislature acts to continue the programs or agencies they are automatically terminated, or the sun sets on them.

Mills' measure has been endorsed by Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post who said it is an orderly approach to dealing with the issue. The analyst would be required to report the findings of the study by next January 1.

The resolution provides for input to the study by any organization or individual with an opinion on how to deal with the elimination of wasteful, unnecessary, self-perpetuating state agencies or programs.

Three other states, Colorado, Florida and Louisiana have already enacted bills embodying the "sunset" concept.

Figures Show 700,000 Are Still Unemployed

SACRAMENTO — A mid-January survey in California shows 712,635 unemployed individuals were claiming jobless benefits under several programs administered by the State's Employment Development Department.

About 435,293 were claiming under the basic unemployment insurance program which provides between $30 and $104 for 26 weeks.

Another 85,907 were claiming under an extension of the basic program. This allows an additional 13 weeks.

Of that 8,000, 58,000 were claiming under the first extension and 31,652 were claiming on the second 13 week extension.

Some 13,857 former federal employees were receiving benefits and 22,989 former military personnel were claiming benefits under special programs.

The 712,000 represents about 80 per cent of all unemployed in California. The remaining unemployed are those ineligible for benefits.

Living With Cancer: It's Done

To be told that you have cancer can be a devastating experience. In fact, many people are so fearful of hearing this dreaded news that they postpone a visit to the doctor even though they have symptoms that they know should be investigated.

Yet a diagnosis of cancer is not a death sentence; prompt care results in many cures. If a cure is not possible, you may live long and comfortably with the condition, and your doctor can help you, psychologically as well as physically.

Cancer is not a single disease but a category of diseases the outlook of which varies depending on many factors, including where it is located, how early it is detected, whether or not it has spread.

About one third of those who have cancer are cured. It has been estimated that this proportion could be increased to one half if cancer were always detected early enough.

Those who are not cured often have remissions — long periods of time during which they have no symptoms. Others with an incurable cancer may have periods in which the disease is stable; it gets neither better nor worse.

And of course, some people do die of cancer.

To say that it is possible to live with cancer is not to say that the problem is easily handled. It calls for courage and strength, emotional understanding and support from family and friends.

To meet that challenge and live fully the years that are allotted to you is infinitely better than to withdraw into tormented fear.

If your first question is, "How long do I have to live?", your doctor can rarely give you a definite answer. Many cancer patients have lived longer than anyone expected.

U.S.A.F. to Give College Degrees

SAN BERNARDINO — Enlisted personnel in the U.S. Air Force can now earn Associate Degrees through the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) under a recent decision by the U.S. Commissioner of Education.

Air Force Chief of Staff General David C. Jones said this approval "marks the first time in history that a military agency has been given the authority to grant degrees to members of the enlisted force." Air Force enlisted personnel will be able to earn a two-year college degree by combining military instruction, which the CCAF certifies as equivalent to college level courses with specified courses from civilian institutions. A members' credits must meet rigid CCAF standards outlined under a specific program for each student.

When a member has earned the required mixture of CCAF and civilian credits, a two-year Associate in Applied Science Degree is granted by the Commander of Air Training Command. CCAF is expected to begin conferring the new degree in April.

Your doctor will need time to investigate your disease and may utilize more than one type of treatment. The fact that treatment is initiated means that there is hope.

Treatment consists of surgery, radiation therapy, chemotherapy or a combination of these.

Patients may ask, "Why bother to treat cancer if it is not curable?"

You are treated because you have come to your doctor for medical therapy to improve your health.

What you want to know about your illness and how it is being treated depends upon you. Some people feel the less they know the less they worry. These persons are more comfortable in placing themselves in the hands of their doctors.

"The purpose is to live," writes Ernest H. Rosenbaum, M.D., in his book "Living With Cancer."

"Many patients tell me that living with the uncertainties of cancer makes life more meaningful, intensifies their appreciation, and eliminates much hypocrisy," said Rosenbaum. "When they can reduce their bitterness and anger toward the disease and accept the inevitable compromise involved in living with cancer, they discover they need not be devastated by it."

Book Planned on Abe of Spoon River

For 13 years, readers of the San Diego Union followed the adventures of Abe of Spoon River in Jack Murphy's column. The heartwarming saga was ended recently by a car which struck and killed the Labrador Retriever. However, in a sense, the story of Abe of Spoon River is just beginning.

Murphy, sports editor of The Union, has signed with Joyce Press, Inc., to produce a book on Abe and the great outdoors. The book is being prepared for spring publication and will include past columns from The Union as well as new material.

Joyce Press, a San Diego-based company, also is the publisher of John Sinor's two hit books — "Eleven Albattrosses in My Bluebird Tree" and "Finsterhall of San Pasqual". The latter, which has been filmed for a Walt Disney movie, is one of the best selling titles in San Diego County with 11,000 copies sold within five months of publication.

"Don Coryell — Win With Honor", the story of the former San Diego State football coach who has enjoyed great success in the NFL with the St. Louis Cardinals, is another book published by Joyce Press.

New Houses Double

SAN FRANCISCO — New housing starts in California have nearly doubled in the past year according to statistics compiled by Bank of America.

December 1976 showed a 16 per cent increase in ground breaking for houses over November and a 102 per cent increase over the previous December.

California contractors are clicking out houses at a seasonally adjusted rate of 265,000 units per year, Bank of America said.

Real Estate Disclosure Law Proposed by Wilson

Senator Bob Wilson (D-La Mesa) has introduced legislation which would require the disclosure of twelve vital items of information to every home buyer in California.

The measure would require the seller of residential property, or the agents of that seller, to disclose in writing to prospective buyers data regarding taxes, bonds, zoning, sewage facilities, pest control conditions and other factors before any transfer of title occurs.

Following introduction Wilson said, "This proposal evolves from a growing interest of the consumer movement to insure more accurate decisions in the purchase of a home, which represents the largest single expenditure in the lives of most families."

"If enacted, this will be the first comprehensive residential real property disclosure law ever operative in California and provides a degree of consumer protection and information not now available," he said.

The proposal is supported by the California Assn. of Realtors.
